

The voluntary band plan for 160m is not working. 160m over the past 20 years has become a very popular band. The band has more than a smattering of activity which all seems to congregate at the low end of the band with modes overlapping and causing interference. I feel strongly that the 160m band should have separate phone and CW bands. The amount of activity on this warrants this action immediately.

Thank for your kind consideration of this matter important to all amateurs that use the 160m band.

Sincerely,

Henry S Kastelberg,
